

Dear Writers,

We appreciate your interest in our magazines. Each of our issues is based on a theme. We suggest you study copies of the magazine if you are seriously interested in becoming a contributor. As you can see from the dates for open themes, we are scheduled years in advance. We will continue to change this list as new themes are added and current themes fill up.

We are happy to read any manuscripts submitted. An SASE must be included to receive a reply. We try to respond within four weeks. If we are interested in your manuscript, we may hold it longer as we try to find a spot for it. When we review manuscripts, we automatically consider them for any of our three magazines, so it is not necessary for you to submit the same manuscript more than once.
